

Hall of Fame Inductee Manual Boody – Denver

Manual Boody was one of the most popular and respected media persons ever associated with high school sports. Manual covered the prep beat for the Rocky Mountain News for 30 years. His personal attention to the students who played elevated him to a revered status within the prep community. He believed that as many names as possible needed to be in the newspaper to recognize those who played. Manual served in the Army.